OF MONON'S NEW BOX CAR No. 1

In a little more than a year

Each unneeded digit eliminated from a car number reduces opportunities for error. On the chance that many shippers have never seen the crazy-quilt pattern of a freight car's travels, during which its numbers may be used thousands of times, we are showing the day-by-day itinerary of Box Car No. 1 in a little more than one year. This is the first car to carry the Monon's new simplified system of numbering. On these trips the Railroads have already saved thousands of lead pencil strokes, typewriter impressions, teletype impulses and spoken numerals. Here is the amazing itinerary, with cargoes carried:—
